The requirements placed on state-of-the-art connection and network technology are as challenging as they are multifaceted. Hirschmann™, as a Belden company, is ideally equipped to meet these challenges with its extensive portfolio of products and solutions, complemented by those of the Belden, HEW-Kabel and Lumberg Automation™ brands.

The product spectrum ranges from a wide selection of cables and connectors, to robust Ethernet switches all the way through to routers and firewalls. This ensures the perfectly tuned interplay of all components even under extreme conditions – in factory, process or traffic automation. With our quality products, we offer the best possible complete solution from a single source.
